MUKDEN, Nov. 21.—Movement of large bodies of Chinese troops to Chinchow, 150 miles southwest of Mukden, was reported today to Japanese military headquarters here.

Japanese authorities said the situation in the Chinchow area was becoming increasingly serious, and hinted important military developments were anticipated.

Any disturbances in South Manchuria by troops of Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang or other Chinese commanders were expected to result in the same prompt and effective measures by the Japanese as were taken in driving the Chinese out of the Tsisihar area.

PINE TREE REGION OF N. CAROLINA ALLURES

Pinehurst, Southern Pines, and Other Resort Centers Are on Itinerary

CLUB GIVES THE ROUTE

Motor tourists who wend their way southward in search of attractive vacation playgrounds will find the pine tree regions of North Carolina a most alluring spot. Pinehurst and Southern Pines are among the oldest and most prominent of the vacation resort centers in this section and vast throngs of northern tourists gather here each fall and winter.

The Keystone Automobile Club has mapped an attractive motor tour to this alluring section, and according to Russell B. Carty, representative of the club, the entire round trip can be covered in approximately 1000 miles. From Bristol the tour leads over the Boulevard then over Hunting Park avenue and City Line avenue to Llanerch where a left turn into Darby Road carries the travelers to Lansdowne, where U. S. Route 1 is met. A right turn into this excellent highway leads southward through Oxford, Bel Air and Baltimore to Washington, D. C.

The national capital is always an interesting place to visit, with its scores of public buildings and historic shrines. A delightful side trip can be made to Mt. Vernon, on the Potomac where George Washington spent many years of his adult life. Southward from the nation's capital the tour leads over U. S. Route 1, through Fredericksburg, boyhood home of the first president, to Richmond, capital of Virginia. Both Richmond and Petersburg, 22 miles southward, were centers of the fighting during the Civil War and contain many points of interest for tourists.

From Petersburg the national highway winds through the Piedmont section of Virginia and crosses the boundary into North Carolina at Palmer Springs. The sixty mile drive to Raleigh, capital of the state leads through picturesque regions of the old southland. Plantations and farms recall the ancient days of planters and colonial nobility. It was through this section that Cornwallis pursued his victorious way northward until Washington and Lafayette halted him decisively at Yorktown. Raleigh is one of the most attractive cities in the south to visit and a stop-over here is well worth while.

From Raleigh a drive of 30 miles leads to Southern Pines, one of the most delightful winter resorts in the country. From early in November until well on into the spring throngs of northern tourists seek the balmy climate of this land of pleasure and recreation. For the hunter, quail, wild turkey and other game abounds. Nearby lakes and streams inveigle the angler, while all manner of outdoor sports are found here. Nearby is Pinehurst, reached over a state highway where similar sport and recreation is promised. On the homeward trip the travelers can follow U. S. Route 74 westward from Rockingham to historic Charlotte, N. C., and then northward through quaint old Winston-Salem to Roanoke. From here U. S. Route 11 can be followed through the beautiful Shenandoah Valley to the north.

On Friday evening, December 4th, there will be an entertainment which will be most attractive. A one act play, entitled "Man Proposes," will be one of the features. Everyone is welcome, and all will be guaranteed pleasant and profitable evenings.

"THEY BROUGHT YOUNG CHILDREN TO HIM" (St. Mark Chap. 10-13)

By Rev. Raymond H. Clark
Pastor, Union Church of Edgely

What is the value of a child? What would you take for your child? I know your answer—"Nothing in this whole world would buy my child."

The mothers of long ago thought the same thing, so they brought them to Jesus for Him to bless them—this was the greatest blessing for the little children to receive. Today Jesus is not here in person to bless the little ones, so He has made you and me His agents to continue on with His great work. Therefore we realize our responsibility toward the children.

These are trying times. Mothers are having hard times to make both ends meet. Everybody is giving according to their means, at least we hope so. In times like these the little children suffer, yet they do not know what it is all about. They need comforts, clothing, shoes and they long for a little inexpensive toy which is part of their little lives.

Have you ever had the pleasure of seeing the little face light up over some little toy, just a something new in the little life.

Do you know of any little child in want? If so, please see me at the close of the service at the Union Church of Edgely—the Home Church and I will be willing to try to meet the little children and see that they receive the necessities of life so far as the power within me lies.

God blessed the children—let you and I continue His blessing.

With the approach of Thanksgiving, the thank-ful ones turn their thoughts more than ever to their blessings, large and small.

Worshippers, at this season of the year, return thanks in more than one way for blessings of life, health, tasks happily completed or to be completed, and show appreciation for opportunity to serve their fellow-men.

The pastors of the churches, in many instances, will dwell for a time tomorrow on Thanksgiving themes, and hymns of Thanksgiving will emanate from the hearts of all who appreciate His blessings.

St. James's Church

Services for Sunday at St. James's Episcopal Church are scheduled to include: 8 a. m., Holy Communion; 9:30 a. m., Church School; 10:45, morning prayer and sermon; 7:45, evening prayer and sermon by rector, Rev. George E. Boswell.

The Mothers' Guild will meet on Tuesday at parish house.

Services for Thanksgiving Day will be: 8 a. m., Holy Communion, offering for Episcopal Hospital; 9:30 a. m., union service at Baptist Church.

The annual every member canvass will soon be held, and the rector hopes that everyone will renew interest in the church and become more actively interested in the parish.

HEIRLOOMS STOLEN

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Theft of the priceless heirlooms of the nation and the old south table china and silverware once owned by George Washington and later handed down through the family of General Robert E. Lee was revealed by police here today. The valuables were taken from the Wyoming avenue home of Mrs. Robert E. Lee. The theft was discovered some time after Mrs. Lee returned from abroad, police said, and a diligent search has revealed no clue to the bandits. They were valued at approximately $10,000.

PAPER ATTACKS CONFLICT

Moscow, Russia, Nov. 21.—Renewed charges that the Sino-Japanese conflict in Manchuria is merely a forerunner of a world war against Soviet Russia were made here today by the newspaper "Red Star," organ of the Soviet army. The newspaper savagely attacked American activities in connection with the Far Eastern crisis, alleging that the United States is supporting Japanese plans to make Manchuria a Japanese province.

SENATOR JOHNSON IN SPOTLIGHT

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Senator Hiram Johnson, who is mentioned in some quarters as a possible opponent of President Hoover next year, today served notice on the administration that the Senate searchlight is going to be turned on the activities of American bankers abroad and their agitation at home for cancellation of war debts. Specifically Johnson intends to disclose by Senate investigation, if necessary, exactly how much American money the bankers have lent abroad and at high rates of interest. Administration officials viewed the Californian's declaration with some dismay.

ST. CHARLES PLAYERS TO APPEAR IN COMEDY

"Movie-Mad Willie" to Be Presented on Monday Evening at Cornwells

MUCH FUN, MERRIMENT

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Nov. 21.—The St. Charles Players will present "Movie-Mad Willie," a comedy in three acts, on Monday evening next, November 23rd.

The play is a story of Hollywood, and revolves around the efforts of "Willie" to break into the moving-picture game as a big producer. It abounds in many rib-splitting, uproarious lines and situations, and supplies two and a half hours of merriment and enjoyment.

Those taking the principal parts are Marion Kueny, Mary Foulkes, Sallie Zickel, Dorothy Yoder, Phil Doerle, John Barron, John Dougherty, James Quirk, William Quirk, Miltz and Joseph McNichol.

The players have been coached by the well-known director, Thomas F. Maher, which ensures a smooth and satisfactory performance.

The music between the acts will be supplied by St. Charles' School orchestra, under the direction of the Sisters of the I. H. M.

The affair will be given Monday evening at 8:30 in St. Charles' Auditorium.

PHYSICIAN INJURED GOING TO AID OF OTHERS

Dr. Thomas E. Lindsay, Ridgeboro, Reported in Serious Condition

IS NOW IN A HOSPITAL

LANGHORNE, Nov. 21.—Two trainmen were injured, a doctor was seriously hurt, and all traffic and communication on the Pennsylvania Railroad cut off between here and Norristown was tied up last night as the result of a broken air hose which caused four empty coal cars in a train of 100 cars to be thrown down a 35-foot embankment.

Dr. Thomas E. Lindsay, of Ridgeboro, skidded and wrecked his automobile about a mile from the scene of the train wreck as he hurried to aid the injured men.

He was taken to Abington Hospital where he was reported in a serious condition with a broken shoulder and knee cap, and a possible fracture of the skull.

Dr. Lindsay had been summoned to treat S. F. Calhoun, Cumberland, Pa., conductor, and A. W. Luckenbough, West Fairview, Pa., flagman, for scalp lacerations, cuts and shock received when the long train of cars buckled. Both men, who were riding in the caboose and were thrown against its sides, were taken to Frankford Hospital.

Telephone and telegraph lines were torn down, a signal arm on a concrete base was demolished, and all power between Langhorne and Norristown cut-off, when the rear part of the train plowed itself into the fore section, which came to a sudden stop when the air lines snapped. Four center cars were torn from their trucks in the wreck and hurled down a steep embankment. Other cars were tossed on their side.

Wrecking crews summoned from Morrisville and Downingtown arrived at a late hour and began the task of clearing the tracks. It was expected the section would not be cleared and communication reestablished between tower signals until early tomorrow morning.

The train was returning to Harrisburg from Jersey City when the accident occurred, shortly before 6 o'clock. The wreck occurred in an isolated section, causing some delay in summoning aid and notifying wrecking crews.

Eddington-Hulmeville Road Is Now Improved

An improvement on state highway route 113 between Eddington and Hulmeville, Bucks County, has been completed and the detour removed.

A narrow bridge over the Neshaminy Creek has been replaced by a wider bridge and the approaches have been improved and widened. Secretary of Highways Sam Lewis said. The surface of bituminous macadam has been replaced a distance of 925 feet with better grades and drainage conditions. The improvement serves a much traveled road that dates back to the time of William Penn's ownership. Work was started in August this year and the contract price was $11,984.00.

Girl Injured When Two Autos Crash at Mill Street

Miss Pauline Daniels, 411 Jefferson avenue, was treated at the Harriman Hospital last night for injuries to the right side of the costal region, sustained when the automobile in which she was riding was struck by a machine driven by Thomas E. Smith, colored, of Philadelphia. The accident occurred at Mill street and the highway.

After receiving treatment Miss Daniels returned to her home. She was riding in a car driven by Anthony Saranzak, 411 Jefferson avenue.

TAXPAYERS VOTE TO CONTINUE PROBE AT MORRISVILLE

Executive Committee Authorized to Proceed if It Sees Fit

WANT AUDIT FIGURES

Charge Irregularities in Purchase of Materials for Road Work

MORRISVILLE, Nov. 21.—The executive committee of the Morrisville Taxpayers' Association last evening was empowered to continue its probe of the affairs of Borough Council, if it sees fit.

Believing that there must be some basis for charges of mismanagement of the affairs of the borough by the members of Borough Council, the Taxpayers' Association, vested the right to continue the probe, in the executive committee.

The decision was made at a spirited meeting in the Community House that was attended by about 250 borough residents. Discussion of the alleged shortcomings of the council members occupied the major portion of the evening, and save for the eviction of one noisy spectator the session was conducted in orderly fashion.

Three distinct points were made against the borough council in the report of William Satterthwaite, Doylestown attorney, who has been retained by the taxpayers' association. He charged that the council had purchased materials from a firm, a member of which was a councilman, and that money was expended for street improvements and other public work without advertising for bids although the outlay exceeded the $500 figure set by ordinance. He further declared that no audit of the borough's finances had been filed in the Quarter Sessions Court office for the years of 1928 and 1929. The 1930 audit, he pointed out, is not yet available, although council ordered it filed last August.

The executive committee of the taxpayers' association will meet in the near future to decide upon its future course. While there was every indication last night that the association was anxious to carry on its probe, it was the opinion of Elwood Kohl, association president, that the project must not work a financial burden that will not be justified by the results.

In the absence of council members no answer was made to the questions raised by association members, the principal one of which was why they are unable to examine the council's financial reports. This privilege, they declared, has been refused them on more than one occasion.

Some were anxious for an explanation of the annual banquet which costs in the neighborhood of $130, and still others wanted to know why a constable was not given a key to the borough lockup.

At least one ordinance on the borough books was declared to be unlawful. This pertained to the laying of curbs and sidewalks by the borough council in instances where the taxpayers failed to do so, and the subsequent assessment of 20 per cent over the actual cost. It was contended that the legal assessment in such cases is 10 per cent.

Another explanation was asked in regard to a report that the borough was paying 90 cents a ton to have stone hauled, while the City of Trenton was having stone hauled from the same quarry for 45 cents a ton.

Central Relief Benefit To Be Given On Monday

A wonderful opportunity to contribute toward the fund of the Central Relief Committee of Bristol is to be afforded the public on Monday afternoon. "The Problem of the Balkan States" was presented last evening to the members of the Travel Club, their guests and the members of the junior section of the club, in an illustrated lecture by Dr. M. M. Dorizas, geographer, traveler, lecturer and world-famous Greek athlete.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Caroline B. Smith, who opened the meeting at 8 o'clock with a few words of welcome to those assembled.

Mrs. Orlando Bowen, of the Fort-nightly Club of Haddonfield, N. J., rendered two soprano solos, "Sweetheart" and "I Passed By Your Window." Mrs. Bowen was accompanied by Mrs. Marburg D. Weagley.

Mrs. Smith then introduced the lecturer, Dr. Dorizas, who in a very clear and comprehensive manner, told why there is so much trouble in these states, and illustrated his lecture with maps and views.

A final treat was given when Dr. Dorizas showed a film taken on his travels.

The meeting was well attended. Hostesses were Mrs. Forrest Bilderback and Mrs. Joseph McCarron.

Classified Advertising

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING INFORMATION

All ads are restricted to their proper classification and to the regular Bristol Courier style of type. The publishers reserve the right to edit or reject any classified advertising copy.

Errors in advertising should be reported immediately. The Bristol Courier will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion.

Advertising ordered for irregular insertions takes the one time rate. No ad is taken for less than a basis of three lines. Count five average words to the line. An average word contains six letters.

Charged ads will be received by telephone, and if paid at the Bristol Courier office within seven days from the first day of insertion, cash rates will be allowed.

Ads ordered for three or six times and stopped before expiration will be charged for only the number of times the ad appeared, and the adjustment made at the rate earned.

Special rates for yearly advertising upon request.

Careful attention given to mail orders.

Announce New System Of Communication

A new communication service is made available today by The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and the other associated companies in the Bell System. This new service consists in the establishment and operation of central switching exchanges for teletypewriters—machines that typewrite electrically over wires to a distant teletypewriter. Any subscriber to this service can obtain connection with the teletypewriter of any other subscriber to the service within the same city or in a distant city and this will permit the immediate transmission of letters, typewritten statements or other information between the two subscribers. In effect the method used for inter-connection of the instruments is the same as that now employed in the telephone system.

The present teletypewriter service of the Bell System is furnished only in connection with private wires which are not connected to central switching points. This private wire service, now widely used for inter-office communication, will be continued as heretofore. The new switching service through teletypewriter exchanges is now possible because of developments in apparatus and operation. They permit inter-communication by teletypewriter on a nationwide basis just as the development of switchboards made possible the inter-connection of telephone instruments.

The new teletypewriter service will thus have the flexibility that characterizes the regular telephone service of the Bell Companies. The establishment of switching offices similar to telephone exchanges enables subscribers to the new service to call and secure connections just as they do for local and long distance telephone conversations. While their teletypewriter lines are connected they may send or receive typed messages as desired.

Soon after the American Telephone and Telegraph Company was organized to develop long distance service it became apparent that the telephone wire system could be adapted to provide circuits to concerns needing private wire facilities.

The first line furnished connected the New York and Boston offices of S. M. Weld & Company and was put in service on December 9, 1887. As the long distance circuits were extended the private wire service grew rapidly among those having need for constant communication with distant branches or correspondents, such as banks, brokers, or press associations. The scope of the service was immediately widened when the teletypewriters began to be used in 1915. Within the past five years there has been a marked increase in the number of industrial concerns using them and the variety of uses they have found for them. At the beginning of 1931 the Bell System was furnishing 10,500 teletypewriter machines utilizing 48% of its private line wire mileage in their service.

HULMEVILLE

A FEW years ago it was tiny Centre College which sent a handful of football furies to Cambridge, Mass., and startled the American sports public by trouncing mighty Harvard via some amazing individual feats by "Bo" McMillan and mammoth Cal "Red" Hubbard. For a season or two, Centre thrilled; it still has a good little team but it is no longer a major factor on the grid map. However, other comparatively small schools are producing head-line-capturing teams with pleasing consistency.

Every fan knows of St. Mary's, which has come from obscurity to high football ranking in a little more than six years under the Notre Dame system of the late Knute Rockne, as expounded by one of his most apt pupils, Edward Patrick "Slip" Madigan. His "Gallop and Go" opened their season last September by beating Southern California and California on successive Saturdays! True, the Trojans and the Golden Bears had not reached their present form, but neither had Madigan's mighty men. The latter are juggernaut jolters, always!

A good line on the true national class of St. Mary's should be afforded later when the Gaels play Southern Methodist in a post-season charity game. S. M. U. is another of those small universities that have been turning out top-notch grid teams for years under the artful coaching of Ray Morrison, of Vanderbilt fame. This season they have great power. When the Mustangs and Gaels tear into action it surely will provide a nerve-tingling toss-up. Almost in a class with St. Mary's and Southern Methodist so far as the spectacular is concerned is Utah, coached by the clever "Ike" Armstrong, which may dominate the Rocky Mountain region again. They have several tough teams in that area, but they are not of the calibre of the best faced by the Mustangs and Gaels. However, 'tis said, Utah is advancing toward a higher class rapidly. Football in the Rockies will rival the nation's best within a few seasons, many predict.
